FLOOR DEBATE

February 23, 2004 LR 14

and I'll call it a pretty narrow special interest group, has wanted LR 14CA, even if it has been for four years. So again, I urge the green light on bracketing this bill until April 15. Again, it establishes a time that is workable and doable, and that will enable the body to certainly move on. Thank you, Mr. President.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Thank you, Senator Smith. You've heard the opening on the motion to bracket LR 14CA until April 15, 2004. Now open for discussion on that motion. Senator Redfield.

SENATOR REDFIELD: On the amendment, Mr. President, please.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Thank you, Senator Redfield. Senator Brown.

SENATOR BROWN: Mr. President, members, actually, I probably should be having this conversation on the amendment, but I will go ahead and take my place in line and speak to it. I've had a couple people ask me about my amendment, which lowers the number to three rather than the five that is proposed in Senator Schimek's amendment, and I doubt that we're going to get to my amendment. But, depending on how we deal with the bracket motion and how we deal with the floor amendment, I won't let the five to three go away and we'll...we would have an opportunity on Final Reading, even if...I mean, we'll have an opportunity, depending on how the things that are currently before us are decided, to have that discussion. And I will continue to have that discussion. I agree with Senator Smith that some of the things that he has presented were legitimate issues. Those issues are included, or at least part of those issues are included in the floor amendment that we're talking about now. I would prefer the number three because, as I said, you take three and the potential of five Indian casinos and we're at the eight that we were considering originally. So I just want those people who are interested in the number three to know that I won't let it go, and that if we do not bracket the bill and if we adopt the Schimek amendment, that I will bring an amendment to go from five to three. Thank you.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Thank you, Senator Brown. Senator Janssen, on the motion to bracket. Is Senator Janssen on the floor? I
